CUPS Education programs build the brain architecture of our children and parents. We provide support to families and focus on the relationship between a parent and child. Building a child's brain is like building a house; stable and supportive relationships lay the foundation for a healthy life.

CUPS Programming – August 2018

CUPS 1001-10 Ave. S.W. Info: 403-221-8780 Child care, lunch and bus tickets are available for most programs. Please register at the reception area on the main floor.

Nurturing Parenting Program (NP): Register Completion of the NPP strengthens your relationships as you learn and practice nurturing parenting principles. Parents play a unique role in their child's brain development that lasts a lifetime. Nurturing Parenting is offered in a variety of formats:

- 16 group sessions: (Tuesdays or Wednesdays) Meet other parents and learn the Nurturing Parenting principles in once a week sessions. Home visit support is available from your facilitator.
- One-on-one in-home sessions: Set up a personalized Nurturing Parenting program to meet specific goals for your family with an in-home coach. Includes access to a Child Development Specialist.
- Nurturing Parenting Workshops: Learn the basics of Nurturing Parenting in any, or all, of 10 weekly sessions. Thursday evenings (5:30-8:00, includes supper) or Monday mornings from 10-12:00.
- Nurturing Father Figures: Join this free 16-week program to learn how to be a healthy father figure and support the children in your life.

ADHD Group: Skills and support group for ADHD, contact Julie M. (403-221-8784), if interested.

Baby and You: A fun & informative 4-week series for new parents and babies under 12 months. These classes can help you better understand your baby and your family. Parents play an important role in their baby's brain development – it will last a lifetime! Free baby photos for participants. (New series starts in September)

Best Beginning: Drop-in to this ongoing Alberta Health Services program for expecting families.

Emergency CPR/AED: Register for this four hour Red Cross course. Gain skills, knowledge and confidence to prevent injuries and respond to emergencies. Must have completed a recent CUPS Intake to register.
